

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

NO NEED TO CROSS THE BORDER!

Seattle's Chinatown-ID Begins Night Market Tradition

SEATTLE, Washington (July 16, 2007) – On August 4th and August 18th, Hing Hay Park will come alive at night with lantern lights, festive entertainment, and food for Seattle's Chinatown-International District Night Market! The event runs from 6PM to 11PM on both days and is located in Hing Hay Park, the heart of Seattle's Chinatown-International District (423 Maynard Ave S, Seattle, WA 98104).

Night Market revelers can browse unique vendor booths, sample delicious food, experience live entertainment, try their hand at fun games for chances to win prizes, and much more! Those looking to relax can sit back and enjoy an outdoor movie while munching on freshly popped popcorn. The Night Market offers something for everyone and there is no better way to spend a summer evening under the stars! Admission is free.

Seattle's Chinatown-International District Night Market is brought to you by a partnership of local community organizations: Chinatown-International District Business Improvement Area, International District Housing Alliance, International Examiner, Seattle Chinese Chamber of Commerce, Wing Luke Asian Museum, and also through the support of the City of Seattle Office of Economic Development, Department of Neighborhoods, and Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Night Market joins a series of Summer Events in Hing Hay Park through August. Weekly Saturday outdoor movies in the park include: "Fearless" starring Jet Li (August 4); "In the Mood for Love" (August 11); "Monsoon Wedding" (August 18); and "Steamboy" (August 25).
